successfully completed the online certification program of the Tokenomia.pro Academy

SOLANA AI AGENTS

This certification program delivers practical, code-focused training in building AI Agents on the Solana blockchain. Participants design and implement three advanced projects: a token assistant, a prompt wallet, and an investment agent. The course emphasizes hands-on coding using AgentKit and the Dexpaprika API, guiding learners through setting up agent infrastructure, reading on-chain data, interacting with smart contracts, and automating decision-making processes.
